Registration is open for the HDF5 European Workshop for Science and Industry.

The event is organised by PaNOSC (Photon and Neutron Science Cloud) in collaboration with the HDFGroup and takes place at the ESRF headquarters in Grenoble – France, on 17-18 September 2019. A Call for Abstracts has also been issued and is open until 23 August 2019.

The aim of the workshop is to highlight the use of HDF in science and industry, and to discuss use cases, related tools, and the latest developments in the HDF5 library. The workshop will be followed by a two-day code camp on h5py.
