The SSHOC project aims to ensure that participants of the project develop their skills in the process by using the most up-to-date knowledge, the best experience, and various connections.

To strengthen mutual benefits of acquiring knowledge and creating networks, a new database where trainers and experts can be listed and easily found and approached has been launched.

This database called Trainers' Directory is a pool of qualified and experienced trainers in the fields of Social Sciences and Humanities that are enthusiastic to bring people that require training to the next level of their expertise in a specific domain.
